Description

Round Two of the On Farm Connectivity Program Launched

The Albanese Government today launched round two of the On Farm Connectivity Program (OFCP).

Today's announcement saw a boost to the funding, with up to $18 million allocated to support eligible agtech and connectivity solutions. It also saw a change to eligibility requirements, allowing more primary producers access to funding to increase productivity by using digital technology.

Find out more about the program in the government media release or through our On Farm Connectivity Information Service.
